

for those of you who loved him as we did...

Brendan the Navigator, 1993-2008, left us on May 2nd for his next great adventure. If we can practice 1/10th of what he taught us, he will have had some small success with us, poor witless creatures that we are.